Clientèle Mobile products include the following:

Clientèle Mobile services include the following telecommunication network services:

- Airtime
- Data

Getting started: SIM Card Activation and Registration

SIM cards must be purchased and fully paid for before being eligible for activation. Depending on the underlying product purchased, this fee may be waived. Please consult your product terms and conditions for the cost of the SIM card, under your specific product.

SIM cards may only be ordered via the Clientèle mobile application (“the App”), alternatively via a duly authorised Clientèle Mobile SIM card distribution agent (“an Agent”).

All SIM cards must be collected by you in person from a relevant Agent (i.e. no SIM card may be collected or registered by another person on your behalf).

Orders for SIM cards will expire if not collected by you:

- i. within three months from having been pre-paid for via the App; alternatively
- ii. within one month from having been ordered via the App but not yet paid for.

No refunds for SIM card orders will become due to you in instances where a SIM card order has expired due to your non-collection thereof within the stipulated time period(s).

Before activating your SIM card, an Agent will first need to physically verify your identity and proof of address by way of you having provided him/her with such documentation as listed for this purpose (i.e. RICA'ing) on the App.

Once your SIM card has been RICA'd you may insert it into your mobile device and follow the Network prompts to receive your mobile number and get connected to our Service. Please note that SIM cards can take up to 24 hours to activate after having been successfully RICA'd. Any airtime or data that is due to be loaded upon activation (in accordance with the underlying product you have purchased) will be loaded once the SIM card is active.

You may not cede, sell or transfer your SIM card to any third party.

We will replace any faulty or defective SIM card within 6 months from the issuing thereof in the event that we, in our sole discretion, conclude that the said defect is as a result of a manufacturer fault or defect. Any active data/airtime on such defective SIM card will be transferred to the replacement SIM card.

Our Services

There may be factors beyond our control that may affect your access to the network. These may include bad weather, functionality of your mobile device, the number of networks users using the network at the same time, faults with other networks, network coverage, weak network signals, bandwidth capacity and technology speeds.

We will not be held liable for any losses or damages (if any) that you may suffer during interruption in network services.

In the event that we are required to send you any notifications or communications and the transmission of such notifications or communications are interrupted or impossible; then we will not be held liable for any losses or damages (if any) that you may suffer due to such interruption or impossibility of transmission of such notifications or communications. All data and airtime prices shall be listed on the App and we reserve the right to update or amend such prices, in our sole discretion, from time to time.

We are under no obligation to provide you with any statement and/or accounts for the usage of our Services in any manner or form.

- we are so directed by any relevant regulatory authority;
- you utilise the SIM card and/or our Services in any manner which is contrary to these Ts&Cs or any relevant law; or
